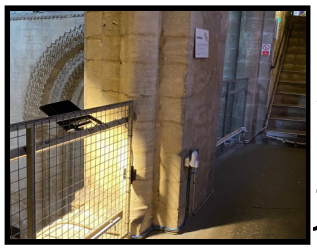
THE STAINED GLASS MUSEUM

Social Story

The Stained Glass Museum is inside the Cathedral.

This is the way in to the Stained Glass Museum.

There are 32 stone, spiral steps up to the Stained Glass Museum. You can hold on to the hand rail to help you.

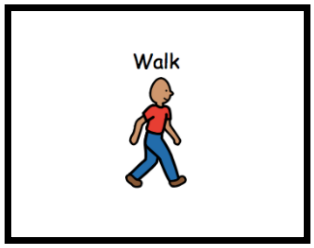


Now there is a straight part to walk across. You can look down in to the Cathedral from here.

There are 13 straight steps that take you into the shop area of the Stained Glass Museum.

There is usually someone behind the till who works in the shop.

You will go through the entrance in the shop into the main gallery where all the glass is.

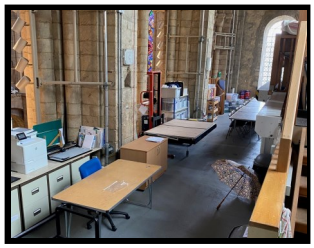


We walk in the gallery so we are safe.

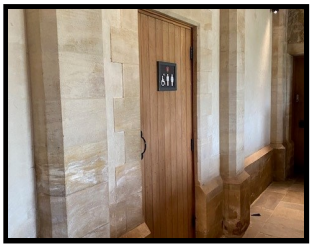
We don't touch the glass. It is very fragile.

There are more than 100 windows to look at in the gallery.

This is how we get to the studio. Up the steps, through the office and down the steps on the other side.



This is the studio where you will come and make things.

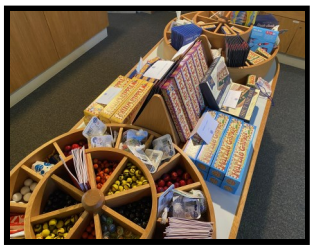


The toilets are on the ground floor of the Cathedral. There are hand dryers in here.

You can eat your lunch outside here on the grass.

You can eat in this building too. It is called the Cathedral Centre.

You might hear the sounds of the organ or singing while you are here.



There are things to buy in the shop.

You will leave the Stained Glass Museum the same way you came in. Going back down the spiral stairs.
